NEW BUILDINGS
ENLARGE SPACE
LIGHT-POWER CO.

Office and Sales Room and More Ice Storage
For Growers

Construction of two additional buildings are under way at the plant of the Florida Power and Light Company south of Pahokee near Pelican Lake railroad. One of the buildings, 20x30 feet, is to be the office of H. L. Lapp, the manager, where he will have a sales room and a storage room for merchandising. The other building, 20x60 feet, is an extension of the ice storage space.

Manager Lapp now has his office in a room in the ice plant, and as there is no sales room, electrical appliances have not been carried in stock. The new building, located between the ice plant and the generating station, is fronting on Belle Glade road, will replace the badly needed addition of space for the office work and will allow the display of electrical stoves, refrigerators and appliances.

The ice storage addition, located on the north side of the ice plant, will increase the capacity 25 tons and is intended to make certain there will be ample supplies for the fruit growers' season.

The Fruit Growers' Express, the company that furnishes refrigerated cars for the shipment of vegetables.

James Maxwell's pile driver was used to set the piling on rock for the foundations of both buildings.

The office building will be of steel frame with an exterior of a material known as Johnson metal. The other building will have a timber frame.

The Future Farmers of Florida Club boys held a fish fry at the Pahokee school building last Monday night in honor of their fathers.

The musical program which followed the fish fry was enjoyed by all present. The radio was furnished by B. Elliott.

The fathers present at the banquet were as follows: J. B. Spooner, V. C. Denton, J. E. Spooner, J. Crawford, Mr. J. B. Elliott, E. P. Parker, T. A. Bass, Jr., and J. W. Vinson.

and Cleveland. Philadelphia used in 1929 more cars of tomatoes than Detroit and Cleveland combined. The freight rate on beans to Philadelphia is $1.36 per 100 pounds; the rate to Cleveland is 89 cents per hamper.

This indicates that western cities must pay the grower 50 cents a hamper more than New York to make the same return that New York does. New York having an advantage of nearly 50 cents a hamper in the freight rate. A justification for the lower rate to New York is the water competition which when the Florida grower uses it is lower than any other district on the continent has.

UNFAIR TAX ON FARMERS' TRUCKS

Editor, The Everglades News:—When I think of the injustices done to the farmers in the Glades and elsewhere I sometimes write about them.

We all, of course, have trucks, cars and tractors. We have to pay a 5-cent gas tax on all the gas we use.

FORGER WAS NOT
REYNOLDS BROTHER

A stranger in the community who represented himself as being a brother of Fred A. Reynolds of Canal Point, induced a merchant to take a check in payment for goods from the store. The check was returned from the bank unpaid because it was forged.

are qualities that cannot be bought—they must be earned. Our country cannot be as great a country as we want it to be unless it commands the loyalty of the people, and merchants cannot have the friendship and patronage of the people unless they make themselves deserving of it. By their industry and fortitude the farmers of the upper Everglades have built up a great business for this region and have set an example for others. They gave their loyalty to the country and the country rewarded them.

There are merchants, too, who stuck with the country, who believed in it, and who stayed through the trying periods, confident that their faith and loyalty and industry would be rewarded.

Christmas is coming, the season of peace and good will, when gifts will be exchanged as tokens of friendship and affection. Where will you be doing your trading in that season? We hope it will be with the merchants of the Everglades.

In the column on the left is an incomplete list of goods that are carried in stock by the merchants whose signatures appear in the column at the right. The list of articles in stock is to be increased as the Holiday Season advances. Emphasis is put on the Holiday purchases because it is then that the temptation to buy away from home is strong, and we want the people of this region to know that our desire is at all times to meet the requirements of buyers, at particular times as well as in usual times.

The New Year is a time of new resolves and re-dedication to high purposes. Cannot we make this a season for the creation of a fraternity of well-wishers and co-operators, with merchants' desire to serve supported and rewarded by the kindly interest of the people of the region?

Let us believe in one another, and by our faith in one another build ourselves up and our institutions and our country. If we make our stores bigger and greater by your patronage we shall be glad if every man, woman and child can say, "I helped make that a great business." There is a moral and spiritual value as well as money profit in service and public spirit and community co-operation.

The Editor's Own Column

Charles Barfield of Pahokee has sent in a communication that will occupy this space next week.

The reader will notice that in this issue there is no sage observation or subtle wisecrack credited to Pat Carroll. I've been making up those comments, and have had to hang them on somebody I hung them on Pat Carroll. I attributed to him was pretty rotten but because the Irish are supposed to be witty and Pat Carroll is getting a reputation he hasn't earned. I've gone on strike and if Pat wants his reputation sullied he will have to make up the wise-cracks himself hereafter.

Clinton Coburn lives in an apartment over his hardware store at Canal Point. On the door of the hardware store has a sign that says "Business hours, 7 a. m. to 9 p. m." I know just how it is, I feel that way, myself.

Reading proof on the matter of this issue that had been put in type up to Tuesday night it is not of that almost all of the articles from this newspaper is not important. The enumeration has been made by S. H. Cooper, an employee of the district, and it is shown to be as was said in advance—practically in every particular. That it is valuable is proved by the activity with which the figures are grasped by a large number of persons whose services are indispensable in the movement and selling of the crops.

There is nothing novel in the matter—there was no originality in The Everglades News' suggestion, for it was no more than a recommendation that there be a district what has long been done in other districts.

What has been done points to the improvements that can be made in the process, and one of the improvements is an avoidance of duplication; not a duplication of work but of pretense of work. The office of the Commissioner of Agriculture of Florida is supposed to have an enumeration of sugar cane production made through an appointment of the board of county commissioners, and for many years in Palm Beach County this enumeration was farcical. The U. S. Department of Agriculture is now doing its best to get the material in, just now, and if the report is too high there is a good reason for the new-comer building a house of his own.

The attention of readers is directed to the page ad in this issue, signed by a group of Everglades merchants—if you haven't already read it. Advertisements of this character are usually written in New York and "applied" to merchants and newspapers throughout the country this ad is a home-made product—and is better for being so.

My lack of sympathy with the sugar industry is pretty well known, as is my partiality for the trucking industry. When I get tired about the bumper crop of the sugar enthusiasts there is a never-failing comment: "You can't get the whole Everglades in a bean." Well, you can't plant all of it to sugar cane. But according to some figures issued by the State Marketing Administration, the whole Everglades Agricultural Chemical Company, Florida ships only 28 per cent of the snap beans, whereas it ships 61 per cent of the peppers and 59 per cent of the eggplants. Sam Chastain says this is the best bean country in the world. If we can't produce about 97 per cent of them and let the rest of the country grow the balance.

Trying to get more information as to which are the largest markets for beans, I went over the earliest reports this season made by the State Marketing Administration, a number of days in which 11 cars of beans were shipped to Chicago, New York took 220 cars. This was early in the season, when Chicago was getting its supplies in trucks from fields close at hand. The New York territory doesn't grow beans to compete with the Everglades.

One hundred and sixty-one cars of vegetables had been shipped from Wauchula up to last week. The newspaper at Wauchula is The Advocate. That newspaper was established more than 20 years ago, which marks the length of time Wauchula has been in which to develop to the point where 101 cars of vegetables are shipped from the operating of the field to mid-November. This is less than half the span of life of either Canal Point, Pahokee or Belle Glade, where more obstacles to long term development were encountered. Belle Glade alone has shipped nearly as many cars of vegetables as Wauchula has.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY

W. C. Rhoades of Canal Point: "Did you read about that bank in Knoxville closing? I had a small checking account in it. Part of the time I was away last summer I had headquarters at Knoxville and that was the reason I opened an account there. Next time I open a new account it is going to be with the Bank of London."

W. J. Brandon of Canal Point: "Fertilizer is a good thing but a picking last week we had substandard the same yield as did a neighbor that used the recommended quantity of the regulation formula fertilizer."

Miss Maud Wingfield of Egmont: "It shows what happens when things are done by people who don't understand the country, as when the lake is held at a high elevation and the water keeps running through the dikes and comes up on the farm land and the pumps are run to pump the lake water back into the lake. These things move in a circle, and it is a vicious circle, for the landowners pay taxes to have unnecessary things done, like this of running pumps to pump lake water back into the lake when the lake water is doing so on its own and be pumped out again. Of course, the sensible thing would be to let the lake do what it will and water would not be made to seep back into the farm land."

EXPRESS SPREADS BEANS ALL OVER

If beans are low priced it is not due to lack of distribution, for the express movement continues heavy, the shipments by express reaching points where the consumption does not warrant solid cars.

An incomplete record of the number of packages shipped by express from Lake stations on the P. E. C. railroad totals $174, for 16 days in November. This is equivalent to 17 refrigerator cars loaded with an average of 550 packages.

On Thursday night of last week the express from Lake stations was 660 packages. Friday night 560 and Saturday night 560 packages. The current week started off with 560 packages by express from Lake stations.
